2. The IDEALIST/TACKLE program is preparing plans to deploy a [REDACTED] U-2R with the necessary support equipment and personnel from [REDACTED] to [REDACTED] during the first two weeks in August 1969. The exercise will serve three important purposes: it will be a first-time deployment of the new U-2R and its associated equipment to [REDACTED] (last U-2C deployment to [REDACTED] was March-April 1968), it will provide an opportunity to evaluate the [REDACTED] U-2R deployment capability, and it will provide orientation/familiarization training at [REDACTED] for [REDACTED] of the Detachment's [REDACTED] U-2 pilots. In the past, this type of training has been required by [REDACTED] prior to their permitting [REDACTED] pilot participation in operational missions flown from [REDACTED] staging base.

3. The exercise will last approximately eight days with three training sorties scheduled while on station at [REDACTED]. Operational missions are not planned as a part of the exercise, however, a capability posture to conduct operational missions will be maintained throughout the exercise that will allow quick response to unforeseen mission requirements.
